

Submarine Sunk By Patrol Plane Off Brazil Coast

U-Boat Surprised and Sent To Bottom, Rio De Janeiro Reports

Brazilian Authorities Also Reveal "Great Activity"
by Submarines

RIO DE JANEIRO, May 25 (AP)—Brazilian authorities let it be known today that "there has been great activity" off their home coasts and this cryptic generality was backed up by these rapid-fire developments:

1. "A North American patrol plane" battled and sank a submarine off the northeast coast of Brazil on May 23. The patrol plane apparently surprised the submarine and went immediately to the attack with a load of bombs. The submarine answered with cannon and machine-gun fire, then tried to submerge, but three more planes joined in the battle and sent it to the bottom.

2. The Brazilian freighter Commandante Lyra was torpedoed 180 miles off the northeast coast of Brazil—the closest-to-home attack on a Brazilian ship. The ship survived and was towed to port with the aid of a United States patrol ship. Six other Brazilian ships have been sunk by Axis torpedoes since Brazil broke off relations with Germany, Italy and Japan.

3. Authorities at Recife awaited hourly the arrival of an Argentine ship carrying fifty-three survivors of a vessel torpedoed and sunk off the Brazilian coast. Rome radio has claimed the fifty-three survivors were members of the crew of a torpedoed United States battleship.

4. Mexican Ambassador Jose Maria Davila here said he would confer tomorrow with Brazilian foreign minister Oswaldo Aranha to inform the Brazilian government officially of Mexico's decision to declare war on the Axis—and apparently attempt to get Brazil to join up.

What measures the Brazilian government might take in retaliation against the encroaching Axis raiders remained secret, but the government is pushing defense plans and air minister Joaquim Salgado, Jr., returned from Recife where he made a detailed inspection of air bases on the vulnerable Brazilian hump which juts toward Africa.

News Withheld
The news of the sinking of a submarine at Brazil's doorstep was withheld from publication in Brazil by the government, indicating the depth of the impression such news was likely to create here. There have been frequent demonstrations against the Axis as a result of the sinking of Brazilian ships.
The authorities at Recife expected the Argentine steamer Rio Igazu with its fifty-three unidentified survivors almost hourly.
The identity of the torpedoed ship presumably will be revealed when the survivors land, but latest reports said the Rio Igazu was still unsighted off Recife. Maritime authorities doubted that the rescue ship would be allowed to enter the harbor if she arrived after nightfall except in a case of "serious emergency."

No Gas Rationing In Oregon, Washington

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration today cancelled plans for the card-rationing of gasoline in Oregon and Washington beginning June 1.

"A marked improvement" in gasoline supplies in the last few days in both states resulted in the decision, OPA announced.

RICHMOND, Va., May 25 (AP)—To show the completeness of their test blackout, citizens of Mauretown sent a copy of their county newspaper to state defense headquarters carrying this item:

Pay-As-You-Go Tax Plan Opposed By Business Men, Survey Reveals

10 SEAMEN KILLED IN 3 TORPEDOINGS

Third Naval District Reports Sinking of Vessels in Caribbean; 118 Survivors Landed

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—Ten seamen were killed in three Caribbean torpedoings, the third naval district said today in announcing the sinkings. Rescue ships landed 118 survivors.

The vessels were a medium sized United Nations merchant ship sunk April 16, a large Panamanian merchant craft sunk April 28 and a small Norwegian ship sunk May 2. Survivors of the Norwegian ship said the submarine captain gave them food and medical supplies after their boat went down. Of the crew of thirty-six, three were killed. The Norwegians were handed bandages and tins of meat and milk and supplied compass bearings before the U-boat disappeared.

Survivors of the Panamanian vessel, torpedoed while silhouetted against a full moon, said they refused to accept food from the submarine and reached land safely within twenty-four hours. Two men of the crew of fifty were killed by the explosion.

The navy said survivors of the United Nations boat were picked up within three hours. The sinking cost the lives of five men from the crew of forty-two.

Pierre Laval, Vichy chief of government to whom both Italy and Germany appear cooling fast, presumably was told of the Nazi stand in Paris conferences today.

Berlin dispatches said that "Vichy can not hope for concessions from Rome through Berlin for both are together." This was coupled with references to "the stagnation" in German-French relations and criticisms of Laval.

Italy, on the basis of these Berlin advices, thus apparently had a clear signal to go ahead.

This French territory could be acquired by a decree of the armistice commission or simply by Italian occupation, to enhance wavering Italian home morale.

Two factors however might still deter Italy: the necessity of concentrating energies with Germany on the eastern front, and the possibility that acquisition of French territory would add only another zone of troublesome underground sabotage.

Limit on Purchases Of Bonds Increased
WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau announced today that, effective July 1, the limit on purchases of series F and G war bonds will be lifted from $50,000 to $100,000 per year.

The change does not affect series E war bonds, the type designed for persons of ordinary means and formerly called "Baby Bonds." The limit on these will remain at $5,000 per year.

The federal government would match whatever payments, up to $20 a month, were made by the states. Such an arrangement already is in effect with respect to needy persons over 65. There has been some criticism of it, however, because of the wide variation among the states in the size of the payments.

Chinese Troops Smash All-Out Japanese Drive

Chungking Reports Important Victory on Kinhwa Sector

Furious Fighting along the Burma Road
Continues

By SPENCER MOOSA
CHUNGKING, May 25 (AP)—Fiercely beset on two fronts 1,500 miles apart, China's stoical veterans claimed to have smashed an all-out Japanese assault on Kinhwa in east coast Chekiang province today while battling freely against renewed threats along the Burma Road in southwestern Yunnan.

In Chekiang, where a Japanese army estimated at 100,000 was swelled by a stream of reinforcements, the Chinese were reported in a Central News dispatch to have administered a bloody repulse to forces which tried to take by storm Kinhwa, provincial capital and most important Chinese military and communications center in the east.

Jap Advance Halted
The high command said Kinhwa was being attacked from all sides but the southwest, but declared the town still was in Chinese hands, and that a Japanese column which had seized Kienteh, twenty-eight miles to the north had failed in an attempt to cross the Chientang river.

More than 500 Japanese were drowned, the communique said, and Chinese dispatches said the column in its first attack north of Kienteh had been routed and 2,000 casualties inflicted.

Japanese columns were reported northeast and southeast of Kinhwa, while another force reached a point near Lanchi, only twelve miles northwest of the city.

(Tokyo newspaper reports declared Japanese were "storming into" Kinhwa, but later Japanese broadcasts hinted that this may have been premature. An encircling movement toward Wuyi, 25 miles southeast of Kinhwa, was said to be underway, with the Chinese tenth army in full retreat.)

(A correspondent of the newspaper Yomiuri on the Burma front claimed the Japanese had surged across the formidable cliff-lined Salween river, most dangerous obstacle to an advance up the Burma road, and thrown the defenders into confusion.)

5,000 Japanese Killed
Declaring the Japanese had left 5,000 dead on Chekiang battlefields in 10 days, the high command said it was employing "magnetic" warfare and that the main battle was now beginning with the Japanese lines far drawn out.

It told of spreading guerrilla warfare which raged along the northern tier of provinces bordering Chekiang and to the west.

In one slashing offensive, it said, Chinese troops recaptured Suiyung on the north bank of the Chieu-tang and only ten miles from Fuyang, one of the bases near Hangchow from which the Japanese started their offensive May 15.

The Chinese communique told of renewed bitter fighting in the two sections of the far southwestern war theater.

In eastern Burma, south of the Burma road, it indicated that, as a result of new Japanese attacks, Kengtung, perched in the hills before the inland waterway.

Camacho Calls Mexican Congress
Into Session To Vote War on Axis

By WILLIAM D. PATTERSON
MEXICO CITY, May 25 (AP)—President Manuel Avila Camacho led Mexico a step nearer war against the Axis powers today with a call to Congress to meet in extraordinary session and align the nation as a full-fledged belligerent at the side of the United Nations.

Only this congressional declaration—regarded as a forerunner conclusion—stands between Mexico's entrance into the conflict, it is expected at a special "war session" Thursday.

The presidential message, which had full cabinet approval, was quickly and unanimously approved by the permanent congressional commission, which functions while Congress is not in session. All but two of the twenty-nine members of the committee were present at the reading of the historic, two-page communication in which the president asked that they act with

LEWIS AND MURRAY MEET AT CAPITAL

Labor Leaders Outwardly Cordial at Meeting of United Mine Workers Policy Committee

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—John L. Lewis and Philip Murray, reported estranged, met face to face for the first time in months today and observed all the amenities of polite company as the policy committee of the United Mine Workers convened without untoward incident.

Although neither the miners' chief nor their vice-president would personally confirm what happened behind the closed doors, competent observers said Lewis offered Murray the floor and Murray, accepting, arose and extended his hand. Lewis took it and there was a rising applause. Murray, it was further reported, complimented Lewis in his speech for his "distinguished leadership."

Lewis "One-Union Man"
Lewis, delivering the opening address, described himself as a "one-union man" since November, 1940, when he yielded the presidency of the CIO to Murray. He had pledged himself to resign if Wendell Willkie was not elected president. Lewis was understood to have added that the miners' union had no place for cliques or divisions caused or inspired by anyone's ambitions. Some individuals, some unions, and some nations cannot stand success, he was reported to have told the meeting.

The miners' president said the union had reached the peak and intended to remain there. Saying he had been devoting himself exclusively to the one union, Lewis stated that he had made no public utterance this year, except for his suggestion last January for a resumption of peace efforts with the Axis.

It was Murray's cool reception to that suggestion which had estranged them.

Calls Upon Kennedy
Lewis called on Secretary-Treasurer Thomas Kennedy for a report, then was understood to have asked Murray, sitting at his side, whether he cared to address the meeting. After the exchange of greetings, Murray told the miners he had not been able to be a one-union man and that as CIO president he had been forced to take a position on many questions and in many affairs.

Murray said he recognized that the miners' union had made tremendous strides and said credit was due to "the distinguished leadership" of President Lewis.

Lewis declined to speak for publication, even to the extent of saying when the committee would reach the question of financial difficulties with the CIO. Lewis has been withholding the miners' per capita tax payments to the CIO against a "debt" of $1,665,000. The CIO leadership, while acknowledging receipt (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Moscow Says Red Army Is Holding against Big Surprise Drive by Foes

Timoshenko's Forces Slowly Advancing on Right and Center in Battles Believed Most Furious of the War; German Losses Particularly Heavy; Fate of Kharkov Is Uncertain

By HENRY CASSIDAY
MOSCOW, Tuesday, May 26 (AP)—The Germans have launched a massive surprise attack on the Izyum-Barvenkova front south of Kharkov with 150 tanks spearheading the assault under an umbrella of Nazi planes, frontline dispatches reported early today.

The Germans also hurled heavy artillery into the battle and the ferocity of the fighting mounted hourly, but Red armies were declared holding steadfastly to the positions.

On the Russian right and center Marshal Timoshenko's men were reported slowly moving forward upon Kharkov itself but with his forces on the defensive about Izyum-Barvenkova the whole of the action stood in fateful balance.

Violent Fighting Reported
The Soviet night communique said merely that "in the Kharkov direction battles continued" yesterday and that especially violent fighting raged on the Izyum-Barvenkova front.

On the front immediately before Kharkov, field dispatches reported that Marshal Timoshenko's resumed advanced had progressed measurably, although only over the most violent and tenacious of German resistance, to overrun a number of German defensive points, one an important center of resistance.

The counter-attacks endlessly thrown in by Nazi Field Marshal von Bock meantime were being beaten off in the bloodiest struggles yet to be fought in the fourteen days of the battle for Kharkov.

All accounts received here agreed that the fighting had reached a wild crescendo, and these were supported by official descriptions of isolated but fairly typical actions.

In one of these, for example, German forces surrounded in a settlement fought on from every house and pillbox—some of the latter being buried Nazi tanks—until they were utterly smashed by Russian artillery and infantry fire.

The invader sought to supply his encircled troops with munitions and food dropped by parachute; his final effort was a futile attempt to break into this small area with a dozen tanks.

Some indication of German losses was offered by the testimony of a captured German officer, Lieutenant Max Gummelberger, as reported in official dispatches.

German Losses Heavy
These quoted him as saying that he had been the sixth commander of his company since first it went into action before Kharkov and that his company, although thrice reinforced, number eighteen men of the original 180 at the time of his capture.

British Labor Crushes Attempt To Interfere with Government

By NOLAN NORGARD
LONDON, May 24 (AP)—Led by two cabinet ministers, delegates to the labor party's annual conference today crushed by a vote of more than 14 to 1 the first attempted rebellion against continued laborite participation in Prime Minister Churchill's wartime national government.

The actual vote was 2,319,000 to 164,000.

The test came on an amendment to withhold the conference's endorsement of the role Laborites are playing in the government. Some observers predicted that the Labor party ultimately would go even further than participation in the government and observance of the current political truce in order to give active organizational aid to the Tories whose parliamentary candidacies are threatened by Independents.

So far this year three conservatives have lost by elections to Independents while Laborites were observing the truce and remaining (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

City Gives $5,000 To Community Chest Campaign

Seven Employees Are Granted Salary Increases as of June 1

Considerable business was transacted by the mayor and city council at its regular weekly meeting yesterday morning, including approval of salary increases for seven city employees contributing to the Community Chest, naming a probationary fireman and policeman and engaging a certified public accountant.

The salary increases, effective June 1, which were approved are as follows:

Frank C. Raley, janitor, $91.90 to $100; William A. Bruhaker, and William J. Hummer, janitors, $90 to $100; Harry G. Rice, janitor, $80.90 to $90; R. H. Farrell, weighmaster $85 to $100; George Schupfer, police painter $100 to $110, and D. N. Brown, police clerk, $100 to $115.

Victor G. Long was named a probationary fireman and Ernest Powell a probationary policeman.

Assist With Chest

A contribution of $5,000 was voted to the Community Chest and Elmer E. and Ruth Tinsinger and the H.O.L.C. were ordered paid $1,650 for a parcel of land at the new airport.

An ordinance providing that the buyer of used auto or bicycle tires must report the purchase to the Police department within six hours was tabled for a week.

The Cumberland Housing Committee was ordered paid $262.50 to cover expenses for three months. The county is furnishing a like amount. The money is being used to set up an office to help war industry workers obtain lodging.

Berry A. Nicklin was ordered paid $25 monthly, for royalty on Green Point quarry, which is not being used, until arrangements can be made to cancel the lease.

Charles O. Hall, Baltimore, was engaged as the city's certified public accountant and the finance commissioner was authorized to advertise for fleet insurance bids.

Seeks Rail Data

Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer, reported to the council he has written a War Production Board official to determine if the steel rails buried in Cumberland streets are needed sufficiently for the war effort to justify removing them. Rizer pointed out the American Legion convention and the Cumberland Fair are scheduled for August and that these events would increase the traffic problem if streets are torn up.

Under a WPA project the cost of removing rails would be $22,909 with $12,613 as the federal share and $10,296 as the city's. The city's share equals the estimated revenue from the sale of the rails.

An application of the Girl Scouts to conduct a day camp near the Ridgeville reservoir tank in July was referred to Rizer and it was proposed that Constitution park be used instead.

A complaint from Charles E. Stahler, Sr., 522 City View terrace, about water running over his property was referred to the engineer. John R. King, 428 Cumberland street, complained that weeds are growing in the vicinity of his home and the Health department was asked to investigate.

To Operate Rink

Richard B. Young and John W. Sprou were given permission to operate a skating rink in the vicinity of Constitution park.

Charles J. Bruce, waterworks superintendent, reported several hundred dollars worth of damage resulted to the plant during Friday's storm. Water consumption for the week ending yesterday was $4,360,000 gallons. The daily average was 7,756,000 gallons as compared to 7,784,000 for the same period last year.

Chauncey Savage Is Accidentally Killed at Home

Charge from Shotgun Enters Neck and Penetrates His Head

Oakland, May 25—Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon in the Methodist church at Crellin for Chauncey Arthur Savage, 27, who was killed by the accidental discharge of a shotgun at his home Friday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock. The charge entered the neck and penetrated the head.

Services were in charge of the Rev. U. R. Binzman, Corinth, W. Va., and interment was in the Blooming Rose cemetery. He was a son of Noah and Sarah Slinger and had lived at Crellin for a number of years where he was employed as a miner for the Stanley Coal Company.

J. W. Owens, sheriff; Deputy J. W. Mitchell and Dr. E. I. Baumgartner, county medical examiner, investigated and Owens declared that Savage had the gun and was intent upon killing a cat that had obtained some ground steak the day previous. There was no other person present at the time, his wife having gone to a neighbor's house.

Surviving are his widow and an infant son, his parents, four sisters, Miss Sadie Savage, Mrs. Mabel Pike, Mrs. Dottie Kesner, all of Crellin; and Miss Betty Savage, at home; three brothers, Oliver Savage, Friendsville; Billy and Albert Savage, Crellin.

He was a member of the Woodmen of the World.

Mrs. Miller Dies

Mrs. Laura V. Selby Miller died this morning at 9:30 at Mt. Lake Park, where she had resided for a number of years. She was the widow of the late Elias Miller who died April 3, 1913.

Mrs. Miller was born October 22, 1845, in this county, a daughter of the late Richard and Rebecca Selby, and was aged 96 last October. Five years ago she fell and broke her hip and had never been able to walk since that time.

She was a member of the Methodist church. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Mary Speicher, Piedmont, W. Va., and Mrs. Rebecca Kesner, Farmington, W. Va.; one brother, Luther Selby, Clarksburg, W. Va., ten grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at the Golden Funeral home with the Rev. J. C. Foster, United Brethren minister, Mt. Lake Park, officiating. Interment will be in the Paradise Church cemetery, between Deer Park and Sand Flat.

of the $1,665,000 from the miners' treasury, replied that it was advanced for organization purposes and was not then considered a loan to be repaid in cash. Many in the labor movement believe the issue may develop into a splitting wedge between the miners and the CIO.

Discuss Vacations

Official sources said the first day's sessions were devoted chiefly to technical discussions of the problems of production and the proposal of operators under the Appalachian agreements that the miners forego their vacations this year. The meeting adopted a resolution directing a subcommittee to work out a modification of the vacation schedule with the operators and report back. The meeting with the operators is scheduled for Friday.

Camacho Calls

"urgency" in view of the international situation.

Makes Three Requests

Avila Camacho made three requests, for a formal declaration of war—the first such formal declaration in Mexican history—suspension of constitutional guarantees and emergency war powers.

Members of the congressional commission said they believed that control of aliens and confiscation of Axis property would be provided under the suspension of guarantees provision and that control of the national economy and communications and changes in the governmental set-up to meet the war emergency would come under the extraordinary powers clause.

Eleven Days After Sinking

Alva Caracho's action today came just eleven days after the torpedo sinking of the first of two Mexican tankers, the Potrero Del Llano, by Axis submarines and the subsequent refusal of Germany, Italy and Japan to answer a government demand for "complete satisfaction." Twenty-one Mexicans lost their lives in the sinking of this ship and the second victim, the Paja De Oro.

As the country moved toward war, preparations for entry into the conflict proceeded swiftly.

Detachments of sailors and marines, under full equipment, marched through the capital during the day. One officer said that, like the army, these forces were under orders to patrol the city and guard important areas.

4. A belief that the treasury and the internal revenue bureau might not be able to put such a plan into actual operation until late in the fall or possibly Jan. 1.

Honorary Degree Conferred upon Mrs. Roosevelt

She Is First To Receive It at Washington College

By MASON BRUNSON
CHESTERTOWN, Md., May 25 (AP)—Washington College, first educational institution named for the "father of his country," today conferred upon the nation's first lady the first honorary degree it ever awarded a woman.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, accepted an honorary degree of doctor of laws at the 160th commencement exercises, marking the semi-centennial of education at the college which was chartered in 1792.

A similar degree was conferred upon President Roosevelt when he came here in 1933 for the inauguration of Dr. Gilbert William Meade as the nineteenth president of the institution.

Two other women, Mrs. Sophie Kerr Underwood of Caroline county, noted novelist and short story writer, and Mary Adele France, headmistress of St. Marys Female Seminary, Leonardtown, were awarded honorary degrees of doctor of letters at the exercises, attended by an overflow crowd of approximately 750 persons in Cain gymnasium.

O'Connor Presents Diplomas

Governor Herbert R. O'Connor presented diplomas to fifty-six graduates—twenty-one of them young women—who heard Mrs. Roosevelt challenge them to meet the responsibilities that go with the privileges of higher education.

Mrs. Roosevelt, addressing herself particularly to the girl graduates, said they were entering a changing world in which women "probably will be asked to do a greater variety of things than they have been called upon to do since the days of the Pilgrim mothers."

She told the graduates the world they were going into would not be an easy world, but it will be an adventurous world.

"I think," she said, "that we have another chance to build a peaceful world but it will require the whole-hearted effort of those who have had the advantages of higher education and a chance to learn the responsibilities of leadership."

"Some of you boys," Mrs. Roosevelt told the male graduates, "are going into the service following the tradition that you will die if asked to do so. But you should also be willing to live for your country with the same amount of sacrifice."

In this war, however, she said responsibility rests as heavily with girls who remain at home as it does upon the boys who are fighting far afield, and "the role of every girl is extra ordinarily important." In the last war, Mrs. Roosevelt said, the people at home never quite knew what the fighting was about.

"Today, with fighting in all parts of the world, it is important for us to know what we are fighting for," she said. "We are fighting for the preservation of the American way of life—but the American way must become the World way."

Highest honors in the class were won by Elsie Marjorie Starr of Galena, who was graduated Maxima Cum Laude, and in token of this accomplishment, she was awarded her diploma by Mrs. Roosevelt.

Robert Lee Livingston of Salisbury won second honors and Rufus Clay Johnson, son of Judge Benjamin A. Johnson, of Salisbury, third honors.

Change in Draft Rules Considered

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—A plan under which family breadwinners might be assured of draft deferments until the ranks of eligible men without dependents were exhausted was under consideration in Congress today.

Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) predicted that the Senate military committee would approve legislation tomorrow empowering President Roosevelt to alter the selective service system by classifying family men into separate groups, to be deferred until other men had been inducted.

This legislation, his backers thought, might help to relieve uncertainty in the minds of men with dependents, who now may be called into the army in the discretion of local boards.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said many married men had complained that they could not learn exactly what their status was under the present system; they asked that they be given some concrete indication whether they would be inducted, so they could arrange for the care of their families.

Meantime, discussion continued of moves to draft youths of 18 and 19, who are now exempt from military service under the selective service system.

Author, Acting as Own Lawyer, Wins Decision in Supreme Court

HELD AS IMPOSTOR

By WILLIAM R. SPEAR
WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—An ambitious author, acting as his own lawyer, won a round in the Supreme Court today in a suit against the Railway Express Agency for failing to deliver a manuscript he sent to Robert Benchley under a trick address for what he termed a "build-up".

Robert L. Peyton of Waco, Tex., wrote a book entitled "Male and Female" and sent it to Mr. Robert Benchley, address as unknown as he is well known, Hollywood, Calif. Twenty-eight days later the express company returned it undelivered.

Peyton seeks $750,000 damages from the express company—$250,000 which he calculates the book would have brought at $2.50 a copy "for each of 100,000 copies usual and common in any good, not even best, seller"; $125,000 which he figures the stage, screen and radio rights would have brought; and then "double indemnity as exemplary damages for double charges both ways for no service." He also wants the company prosecuted criminally.

His express receipt contained a $50 valuation and the federal district court, on motion of the company, dismissed the suit on the ground that it could consider only claims involving more than $3,000; the circuit court of appeals upheld this dismissal.

After Peyton filed his appeal to the supreme court, however, attorneys for the express company said that they "find themselves in the embarrassing position" of acknowledging that the federal court did have jurisdiction. But they contended that the lower courts were correct in ruling that Peyton could recover no more than $50.

Peyton's reply brief—printed as impeccably as the company's but containing some unusual language—termed this stand of the company's counsel "a cheap trick" which "smells to high heaven."

He said that his case "might as well be the test case to eliminate all such previous abuses and establish equity to and for all beyond the power of lower courts to misconstruct or alter, as well as set an example x x x." To this end he asked the supreme court to render judgment for him or direct the lower court to do so.

The supreme court wouldn't go so far as that. It merely reversed the lower courts' dismissal of the case, and Peyton presumably can now proceed with the suit there.

Mrs. Ruthella Bibbins Dies in Baltimore

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP)—Mrs. Ruthella More Bibbins, wife of the late Dr. Arthur Barnevel Bibbins, geologist and educator, died at her apartment today after a short illness.

She was well known in religious, civic and political affairs of the state, and was a member of a family which had been settled in Maryland for eight generations, first in St. Mary's and then in Frederick county.

Mrs. Bibbins studied at Goucher College graduating in 1897, and spent a year in England studying history and political science at Oxford University. She received a fellowship at Bryn Mowr College.

Cumberland Man Killed by Train

HAGERSTOWN, May 25 (AP)—A man identified as Harry Foster Davis, 35, of Cumberland, route 2, was killed instantly tonight when run over by an east bound freight of the Western Maryland near Big Spring station, about 15 miles west of here.

The man was identified by cards in his clothing.

Railroad officials said Davis apparently was riding the train and fell off. He was decapitated.

tween the Salween and Mekong rivers, was in a dangerous position. It said the battle was raging east, south and west of that shan state capital sixty miles north of the Thailand frontier.

North of the Burma Road the Chinese reported continued progress in clearing the Japanese out of their mountain positions west of the Salween. After recapturing points east of Japanese-held Tengyueh, the communists said, the Chinese had switched their attack to the south of that town.

Chinese have stated that 150,000 Japanese troops have poured into Burma, however, and the Chinese press, repeating the cry of a few days ago, called for allied aid to be rushed to China who, it was said, is fighting not only her own but the United Nations' battle.

The Tokyo newspaper Yomiuri declared the Japanese were in position to attack Paoshan on the Burma Road as the result of a surprise crossing of the Salween near the destroyed Huiting bridge.

The Chinese defenders at Paoshan, 180 miles from the Burma frontier and fifty-five miles from the Huiting crossing were betraying signs of demoralization, the paper said.

In an advance upon Kunning, the eastern end of the Burma Road 375 miles from Paoshan, the Japanese would still be confronted by mountain ranges nearly 9,000 feet high, the chasms of the Mekong river and the easily destroyed hairpin turns of the road.

But if they had crossed the Salween they had passed their greatest natural barrier.

Your Toothpaste Tube Is Part of Queer Collection

Piled Up with Sewing Machine and Other Junk for War Needs

NEWARK, N. J., May 25 (AP)—The tin salvage institute is up to its ears in junk—and likes it.

Designated by the government as the nation's melting pot to reclaim metal for war use, the institute is getting ready to put another squeeze on that old toothpaste or shaving cream tube you had to turn in before you could buy another.

It appears that the plant will have established on the side a tidy junk business for Uncle Sam before its reclaiming operations get under way in a week or two.

"Queerest" Collection

"We've got the queerest collection of stuff," W. M. Rose, president of the institute, reported today. "One batch included an old sewing machine. Another contained some ice cream scoops and other fountain equipment. Then there has been a sprinkling of tin cans, tin foil, wire—and some odd plumbing connections, too."

A great deal of metal can be salvaged from such an assortment, Rose said, "and the rest of it will be sold as junk. That's worth money, too, and we may have quite an enterprise before we're through."

Much Metal on Hand

At present, the institute, formed by manufacturers of collapsible tubes, tooth paste and shaving cream as a patriotic service, merely is sorting the material and getting machinery installed.

Rose estimates there is about a half-million pounds of metal now in the hands of retailers. They will ship the supply to wholesalers, who will send it on to the institute—all at the expense of the government. All of the profits, incidentally, also will go to the government.

INTERPRETING THE WAR NEWS

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
AP Staff Writer

Conflicting reports from the Kharkov front in Russia throw little light on the probable duration or outcome of the first pitched battle of the summer campaign; but they do reveal that for once the Russians are on something like even terms with their Nazi foes in modern war equipment.

The size of the armies involved can only be conjectured from the fact that an irregular fighting front more than 200 miles long appears to be aflame with attack and counter-attack. That means troops by the hundred thousand on both sides.

More than two weeks have elapsed since Marshal Timoshenko seized the initiative and struck out to hamstring an impending German offensive before it could get rolling. In that time, there has been no indication that the Nazis have succeeded in gaining control of the air or breaking armored panzer columns loose to lunge deep behind Russian lines.

May Be Turning Point

Lacking those two prime factors, which have figured in every preceding German victory in Russia, the battle of Kharkov may go down in history as the turning point in the war. Even Russian failure to take Kharkov or to break through to the Dnieper crossings and undermine the whole German southern flank could not be set down as a defeat if it delayed Hitler's promised master offensive.

If Timoshenko has succeeded in sucking into the blazing struggle any substantial portion of Nazi reserves behind the Ukraine front and worn them down by losses in men and equipment to the extent Russian official accounts report, he has already seriously short-circuited Hitler's offensive schedule.

Kerch peninsula, bridgehead to the Caucasus, is again completely in German hands. Heavy Red losses there are highly probable. Unless the Nazis can soon clinch an even greater victory in the Kharkov fight, however, and emerge from that conflict in shape to exploit it promptly, the value of the Kerch bridgehead to them will be doubtful.

Kerch Front Secondary

It has seemed certain since Timoshenko's broad strategy became clear with the Red attack at Kharkov that he regarded the Kerch front as wholly secondary. He had opportunity to mass men and equipment there in sufficient strength to challenge the foe successfully had he so desired; but elected to make Kerch merely a holding operation while he concentrated for a counter smash at Kharkov.

Kerch peninsula in Russian hands was obviously only an outpost position covering the far better defensive terrain that Kerch strait and the area east of it afford. If its loss has cost the Nazis as heavily as indicated, it served its purpose well.

The cumulative attrition of Kerch and Kharkov on Nazi striking power is yet to be measured by events. If it has been any where near as great as Russian claims, in their tales of German tanks shattered by the hundred and Nazi planes shot down and bombed on the ground, the battle of Kharkov must be recorded as a Russian victory regardless of the status of the city itself or Russian failure to reach the Dnieper crossings immediately.

BEFORE STORING CLOTHES IN A CLOSET, spray the closet thoroughly with a good moth compound. Be sure that the vapor gets into cracks and crevices, because that's where dirt may collect and serve as an excellent breeding place for moths. If you're going to use the closet constantly while clothes are stored there, hang up a container filled with a good moth compound.

WOOL CLOTHES should be hung up so that air will circulate through them and wrinkles will come out naturally. They should be brushed once in a while with a moist soft brush and hung up to dry. Don't press them too often.

KNIT CLOTHES should never be hung—but should be folded in drawers or placed on shelves. PAY SPECIAL ATTENTION TO CHILDREN'S CLOTHES

Children should have low hooks within their reach, with small hangers to fit their clothes.

SLIDE FASTENERS should never be forced—they should be opened and closed by the tab. While laundering or ironing a garment on which there is a slide fastener, make sure the fastener is completely closed. Careless pressing and creasing of the slide fastener may eventually throw some of the teeth out of alignment.

Fazenbaker, a service station operator, was arrested last week by Howard P. Loughrie, United States deputy marshal, and Charles Cushman and David Walker, federal alcoholic tax unit agents.

Scout Cubbing Helps Make Pals Of Fathers, Sons

Home Workshop Also Brings Youngster and Dad Closer Together

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

When I was a boy on the farm, from about eight to twelve, going with my father in the spring was a rare event. We also went at times after the hay and grain were in the barn. I used to look forward to these events.

I don't recall our catching many fish—but our going, Dad and I together, getting the bait, rigging up the crude tackle, crossing the woods and fields, and sitting by the creek together was lots of fun. Tugging the worms together is one of my fondest memories. As Father landed up the moist dirt, I picked the wriggling worms.

Late in the fall, about this time, my father also used to help me make rabbit boxes (traps). I was never handy with tools, so I was very happy when Father came along to help me. He really did most of the work, being so much more skillful. But at such times I felt very close to Father, for we talked constantly then as we also did when fishing.

I wish more fathers would go cubbing with their boys. Practically all city fathers and young sons can have similar experiences to those my father and I had over making rabbit traps, and older boys can do better than I did. They learn skills with tools early. Thanks to the good influence of the modern primary school in guiding children to do things with their hands, many children develop home workshop. What a place for fathers to join in and make things with the child.

Cubbing

Just see what cubbing has done to encourage the father and his son to do things together for fun. Some time ago, as you will recall, I devoted a column to the value of cubbing and urged parents to get back of it heart and soul. Writing to commend me on that article, M. C. Wessel, national director of cubbing, of the Boy Scouts of America, added:

Having a promotional responsibility for Cubbing, I develop most of my steam and enthusiasm for what it actually accomplishes in the home circle and the neighborhood. A situation where the boys spend the greater part of their lives. I have had two-fisted, broad-shouldered men come to me with tears in their eyes saying, "I thank God for Cubbing." It is the first time this kid of mine ever called me "Pal."

The kid called him "Pal" because Cubbing made it possible for father and son to do things together. Then, too, since Cubbing helps the neighborhood pattern of behavior, we have had many fine comments from parents stating: "Cubbing has brought a spirit of cooperation in our neighborhood." Fathers and mothers interested in Cubbing should get in touch with their local Scout master or write M. C. Wessel, National Director of Cubbing, 2 Park Avenue, New York City.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. What advice would you give the girl who for years has planned to marry a man now entering the armed forces but decided, wisely, to wait for his return?

A. To be ready to find him a different person on his return but to continue to love him should he remain the same. If she should marry him before he goes she should try the harder to accept him for whatever he may be on his return.

Take Out False Teeth During Air Raid

LANSING, Mich., May 25 (P)—In case of an air raid, take those false teeth from your mouth and put them where they will be good and safe.

That is the advice of Dr. Lloyd H. Gaston, deputy chief of the Emergency Medical Service Corps, who says the vacuum created by a bomb explosion easily could cause a victim to swallow a removable bridge. He warns further: "Larger restorations, such as partial dentures, may become potential secondary projectiles following a blow to the head."

Spring Disasters Take 250 Lives

WASHINGTON, May 25 (P)—More than 250 persons were killed in the United States this spring by natural disasters, the American Red Cross reports in a recapitulation.

In addition to upwards of 250 killed, 2,300 persons were seriously injured and 7,000 families affected, many of them made homeless. Spring disasters included tornadoes, cloudbursts, ice jams, floods, forest fires and a mine explosion in West Virginia which killed fifty-six.

Rubber-Less Tire Declared Success

ST. LOUIS, May 25 (AP)—Another type of experimental rubber-less tire—steel-rimmed wooden wheels—has been found "satisfactory" by the operator of a fleet of St. Louis newspaper delivery trucks.

Initial tests proved so successful that William Stroh, president of the firm which has the contract for delivering the Morning Globe-Democrat, placed an order for fifty sets of the wheels.

The wooden tires compressed in quarter sections on standard truck wheels and beveled down for a steel rim two inches wide, are fitted with four springs next to the wheel for shock absorbers.

"The tires don't exactly ride like rubber ones," said Severin Prag, superintendent of the Stroh Company, "but for delivery purposes they provide an answer to rubber tire rationing. Steering is much easier and there is no worry about blowouts."

Treatment of War Nerves Presents Many Difficulties, Doctor Declares

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
Yesterday we described the reports which have reached us from our English brethren concerning the forms of nervous and mental upset which occur as a result of war stresses with exposure to actual bombing or personal losses and sorrows. They fall, as we saw, into the familiar pattern of nervous breakdown in civilian life, although they are precipitated somewhat more suddenly and perhaps hit a larger group of the population. In other words, those individuals who, under the ordinary duties of civilian life, would have nervous systems entirely adequate to carry on their ordinary occupations, go to pieces under war conditions.

Treating Neuroses

How do we treat these war neuroses and nervous breakdowns? Well, very much as any other nervous condition is treated. War conditions, of course, create situations which modify our approach. For instance, perhaps the ideal form of treatment of any condition of this kind is rest and isolation in a quiet environment. But where in the war-torn British Islands is it possible to find such a place, or is it possible to make room for these nervous derelicts when badly wounded men need beds and rest and quiet more than any other group in the population?

Again, analysis and review of the patient's history, education, and guidance with the patient's life history in view, is good treatment for these cases. But under war conditions, have we got time to spend on these people when those who are organically ill or wounded demand the attention of the limited number of physicians?

Neurotic in War Time

It is perfectly natural that the neurotic should be more or less neglected in war time. He may arouse our sympathy and may be very interesting at other times, but he is not in real danger and he must have secondary consideration. Surprisingly enough, the neurotic learns this in war time and very often manages to make surprising adjustments on his own hook without any help at all.

It is like a household in which one member appears to take a fiendish delight in obtruding her own symptoms into the picture, or setting everybody at loggerheads and upsetting everybody's plans on account of her whims. Then some member of the family actually gets dangerously ill and she finds herself in the corner with nobody to listen to her symptoms, and begins to realize that she really has a place of secondary importance which she has created by her own course of life. Everyone has known of instances like this where somebody else's sickness cured a neurotic permanently.

Change since Last War

There is a curious change of distribution of nervous symptoms between this war and the last war as noted in England. In the last war soldiers suffered from shell shock which was simply a form of hysteria induced by their experiences in being under shell fire. These soldiers found that when they were reduced to a state of uselessness, they were sent back to England and put in a nice, safe hospital. But in this war, behind the lines in the civilian population it is as dangerous or even more dangerous than on the front lines so the soldier learns to control his shell shock.

However, as time and circumstances permit, the tried and tested methods of psychological treatment are those which can be used in the case of war nerves—first, suggestion; second, persuasion or moralization; third, rest and isolation; fourth, personality analysis, and fifth, re-education and guidance.

Questions and Answers

J. C. S.: Is there any harm in taking an overdose of vitamins?

Answer: Toxic symptoms have been reported from the excessive use of vitamin D and thiamine chloride (vitamin B).

P. V.: Can a tumor of the brain be x-rayed?

Answer: Neither the brain itself nor a tumor of the brain throws a shadow on the x-ray film, but by emptying the ventricles of the brain of their fluid and allowing air to flow into them, deformities are shown up which indicate the presence of a tumor.

If you wonder why no more juke boxes are to be built for the duration, consider that the aluminum used in 125 of them would build a United States fighter plane, and that one contains steel enough for five light machine guns.

Willkie Tells G.O.P. How To Win in the Coming Elections

EAGLEVILLE, Pa., May 25 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie predicted in an interview here that the Republican party has an "opportunity to win in many states in the fall election provided:

"1. Their candidates sincerely recognize that America after the war must be a part of the whole world.

"2. They divorce themselves completely and publicly from those elements in politics that seek to control political thought by the lavish expenditure of money and direct it to an outmoded Toryism. Such methods of political control are as dead as a dodo bird."

The former Republican nominee for president spoke at the thirty-third annual meeting of the Eagleville Sanatorium.

Dessa Haggerty Is Killed When Struck by Car

Maynard Marsh, of Parsons Is Exonerated at Hearing in Keyser

KEYSER, W. Va., May 25—A car driven by Maynard Marsh, of Parsons and Washington, struck and killed Dessa May Haggerty, Saturday night, on U. S. Route 50 in front of Newcome's dance hall. The victim was the fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Haggerty of near Purgittsville.

Marsh placed the girl in another car and took her to the Potomac Valley hospital where she was pronounced dead. The victim was struck by the radiator of the car and dragged 100 feet before the car was stopped, officers said. The car, a 1936 Plymouth, was badly damaged by the impact.

An inquest was held Sunday afternoon in the court room at which time much evidence was presented. Testimony showed that the girl was accompanied by Ruth Jack and Gerald Lee. Lee said he was holding the girl's arm and as he saw the car approach he jumped back and the girl was struck. The driver stated that he saw the three person and when two of them stopped he assumed the other one would, but before he could do anything to prevent an accident she had stepped in front of the car.

Trooper Kelly said the car traveled 100 feet before stopping and traveled fifty-five feet after the brakes were applied. The marks on the road indicated that the car was on the right side of the road. Marsh testified that he was traveling at a speed of less than forty miles an hour due to the condition of his tires.

After hearing the testimony the jury exonerated Marsh. Marsh, whose home is in Parsons is employed in the War department in Washington. In the car with Marsh at the time of the accident was Harold Wratford, owner of the car and his brother, Deblin. Both men substantiated Marsh's testimony.

Miss Haggerty was popular in the Purgittsville community where she resided with her parents. Besides her parents she is survived by the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. Eva Shumaker, Frostburg, Harry Haggerty, Akron, Ohio, and Clyde. William and Ellis Haggerty at home.

Berries are coming in—and it's time for Home Canning...in which your GAS RANGE can play a star part!

Because of huge demands for foodstuffs for our armed forces and for our Allies, some varieties of foods will be hard to get later on. To make sure that you have plenty of the right foods to serve your family, put up all you can of the seasonable fruits and vegetables.

Right now strawberries, cherries and early rhubarb are in the offing. Plan to home-can as many of these as you are able to buy and prepare. Here's where you'll find your modern GAS range of real help, whether you preserve by hot water bath, the pressure cooker method, or by the more convenient way—oven-canning.

With home-canning this year, you'll find you've accomplished three important things: You'll have enriched your family diet, you'll have cut down your household budget, and you'll have helped this country to win the war.

So let's start...soon...with the berries! Ask the Home Service department of your Gas company for guidance on how to can fruits or vegetables by any of the three accepted methods.

"The Authority on Authorities."

DON'T MISS THAT GAME
WHEN YOUR pair is using an opening two-bid of a suit to guarantee enough strength to make game, you should never allow the deal to be played at less than a game contract unless your opponents afford you an opportunity for a business double which will penalize them more points than a game is worth. If you keep the bidding open the first time with 2-No Trumps, and your partner then bids three of either the same or another suit, you must keep it open the second time, with either a bid of a suit, a preference for one of his suits or, lacking any of these, with 3-No Trumps, and you still are further obligated if after that he bids four in a minor suit, as you must never let it end below game, unless you do not like games.

Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.

South West North East

3♦ Pass 3NT Pass
4♥ Pass 4♥

That bidding is what should have occurred on this hand, but what actually happened is that North, after keeping the bidding open with 2-No Trumps, passed South's 3-Diamonds and, as a consequence, a sure game went to seed.

South thereupon gave a very fine exhibition of a man driven almost crazy. "Didn't you hear me make a forcing bid of 2-Hearts?" he asked.

Certainly I did," answered North, "and I kept it open with 2-No Trumps."

"Yes, but then after I bid 3-Diamonds, you passed."

"Well, you didn't force me again, as your 3-Diamond was a minimum bid over my 2-No Trumps."

That is exactly the kind of absurd logic used by many players that you can shake a stick at. They seem not to realize that the original bidder still holds the same hand on which he said, with his first bid, "I can make game in my own hand, but am a bit in doubt as to what is the best declaration. I know that your hand is rotten, because I hold practically all of the high cards in the deck. Your distribution is all right, I care about, and I want to know which declaration of mine best fits your distribution. If you have any high cards at all, then think of a slam."

Senator Kilgore Says U. S. Facing Forks in Road

Ridgeley Graduating Class Hear Education Is Basis of Democracy

Education is the basic foundation of any democratic country, United States Senator Harley Martin Kilgore, of Beckley, W. Va., told members of the Ridgeley high school graduating class last night at the eighth annual commencement exercises held in the school auditorium.

The reason the United States has achieved its present status as a democratic country is the great spread of the free educational system throughout all parts of the country, Senator Kilgore added. If Russia had been a country which had such a system of education, it possibly would have evolved into a democratic nation instead of its present Communist regime, he remarked.

"I always wondered why the end of the high school education was called a commencement," Kilgore said, and after thinking it over these past years I see that it is the commencement of personal responsibility of each individual to himself and his country."

U. S. at Forks of Road
Turning to the present world which is torn by conflict, Kilgore said America is facing the forks in the road. One road is tended by a gatekeeper whose pass word is "too little, too late," the other road is tended by a gatekeeper whose slogan is "sacrifice to win the war."

If we in the United States are to witness any more commencement exercises or any other form of democratic life we must crush the egomaniacs such as Hitler, Mussolini and the Japanese militarists, Kilgore warned. This present war is a fight for civilization over barbarism, he declared.

America is a peace-loving nation but we have a tendency to lean over too far backward in the interests of peace, the Senator said. We must not disarm the way we did following the First World War, Kilgore warned. That is the same as firing the city policemen because we think there will be no more robberies, he added.

The "War of Envy"
There has been some talk of naming this war, Kilgore said, and if I were chattering I would call it the "War of Envy." The Axis powers are envious of our precious heritage of freedom and wealth and wish to destroy both, the Senator declared.

One only has to read Hitler's "Mein Kampf" to see the blueprints of a world which the Axis powers would preside over, he said. We would all be slaves and made to answer the wants of a Germanic and Japanese overlordship of so-called "supermen," Kilgore added.

Although holding no brief for war in any form, Kilgore said many scientific advances arise from all wars. After this war we will be riding in cars which will use high octane gasoline and be constructed of lightweight metals and other products now being used in the war effort, Kilgore prophesied.

Awards Presented
Senator Kilgore was introduced by Harley Stagers, Keyser, W. Va., who is his namesake. Stagers outlined Kilgore's career and noted that he was a colonel in the Army Reserves and has served on many Senate committees pertaining to military matters. He is also a former judge and school teacher.

The program opened with members of the class marching to the stage as Mrs. Kenneth Plummer played Wagner's "March from Tannhauser." The Rev. Kenneth Plummer, pastor of Calvary Methodist church, delivered the invocation and benediction.

Mary Sirna, honor student, gave the address of welcome and Barbara Cornelius, honor student, the farewell address. Diplomas were presented by Dr. E. V. Romig, member of the Mineral County Board of Education. A mixed chorus sang "America I Love You" and the girls' chorus sang "On Mighty Land."

The award for high scholarship was won by Cleta Mildred Koon. Mayor Paul K. Morgan award of $5 for the student displaying the best type of sportsmanship during his senior year was won by two boys, Robert Washabaugh and James Thomas, when both were deemed to have practiced such traits. The L. G. Balfour award for scholarship, loyalty and achievement was won by Barbara Cornelius.

CELANESE WORKER IS HURT; PLANT OFFICIALS ARE INVESTIGATING

Investigation by plant officials was under way at the Celanese plant today to determine the reason for the alleged assault on Ivan Godlove, R. F. D. No. 3, Bedford road, Celanese spinner, who was treated in Allegheny hospital Sunday night at 10:30 o'clock for a badly lacerated head, Fred T. Small, plant manager, said last night.

Small said as far as he was able to learn, Godlove was accused by fellow workers of throwing water and one of the men floored Godlove with a blow, his head striking one of the spinning machines in Block 1. Small said Godlove was treated in the first aid room at the plant and then taken to the hospital where he remained over night for observation. He was discharged from the hospital yesterday at noon.

Small stated that several of the workers were being questioned and as soon as the particulars were learned action would be taken against the guilty person or persons.

B. and O. Adds A New Train

Jaycees Elect Nine Directors; Reports Given

McAlpine Outlines Activities of Organization for Past Fiscal Year

Nine directors were elected, seven for two-year terms and two for one-year terms, and reports for the year were read last evening at the annual dinner meeting of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce at the Central Y. M. C. A.

Those elected to the board for two years were Wilbur K. Bishop, Charles S. Catherman, Jr., C. William Gilchrist, John M. McAlpine, John P. Schmidt, John L. Towler and P. Allan Weatherholt. The Rev. Alfred L. Creager and John R. Wilkinson were elected for one year.

Elect Officers June 1
Holdover members of the board of fourteen are David Kaufman, C. Eugene Howell, James White, L. Leslie Helmer and Paul Stakem. Directors will meet Monday, June 1 to elect officers for the ensuing year.

Thirty-five members attended the dinner.

The association received an invitation for its members to participate in a golf tournament Saturday, June 13, and those planning to compete are advised to make reservations at the local association office in the Liberty Trust building.

President Makes Report
President John M. McAlpine submitted a report to the membership outlining the activities and condition of the organization at the close of the fiscal year.

In his report McAlpine stated that the association's progress for the past year has been due to the excellent co-operation of the entire organization. He added that the association's position and prestige in the community has been improved, and a large number of projects have been successfully completed.

"We have lost many of our members because of the war, and we will probably lose more," McAlpine said. "However, in the past years we have increased our membership, and it is one of our most urgent duties to continue to do so. With many new men in our community, this should not be too difficult."

Let's Year's Activities
McAlpine divided the activities of the association into seven groups, namely, civic, cultural, financial, legislative, national, social and sports and gave a brief description of each project or activity.

Among the civic projects listed were the Christmas Home Lighting Contest, which under the leadership of Elgin A. Roof created much interest in the beautification of the city at Christmas time and cash prizes totaling $50 were presented to citizens; the proposed C. and O. Canal Highway, which is postponed for the time being because the government has made other plans for the canal's use, and smoke control, a plan which met an untimely death due to the war and restrictions placed on appliances necessary to the control of smoke and dirt.

Other activities included the work of the traffic committee, which submitted a comprehensive report to the mayor and council, and the part members of the association took in the "Save-the-Y" campaign and the Red Cross War Relief drive.

Sponsored Several Drives
National activities included the sponsoring of the scrap aluminum collection, the publishing of Navy Week, and sponsoring of the Victory Book campaign.

Sponsorship of the Community Forum by the association for the second year was listed as the outstanding cultural achievement.

Salesman, Hold-up Victim, Tells Rationing Board of Misfortune

Gas Card Is Taken; Farmer Plows Under Sugar Books

A story of a hold-up in which a salesman was relieved of his gasoline rationing card, registration and operators' cards, money and last but not least his automobile, was unfolded in a letter received yesterday by Allegheny County Rationing Board No. 1-1 from a man who signed as Henry Shapiro, of 4006 Barmann avenue, Baltimore.

"We have received many letters since the board has taken over rationing tires, tubes, sugar and gasoline, but this one tops 'em all," remarked Robert E. Barnard, board chairman.

According to Shapiro's communication, he received a B-3 rationing card in Cumberland and while en route to Baltimore Thursday, May

Community Chest Workers Report $28,235.50

Half of Quota Is Nearly Reached; Campaign Leaders Are Confident

With a total of $28,235.50 subscribed yesterday, Cumberland's seventeenth annual community chest drive lacks only eight tenths of one per cent of being half completed, it was announced at campaign headquarters, last night.

Division leaders, classified associates and the classified chairman, Henry W. Price, met yesterday afternoon in the Potomac Edison company offices to discuss progress of the campaign to date, and after the meeting expressed confidence that the goal of $57,272.77 will be reached by Thursday noon, deadline for the campaign.

Two sections already are within fifty per cent of reaching their goals, national firms and special gifts, chest officials said.

Special Gifts Subscribers $18,321
National firms have subscribed $1,747.50 for a percentage of 62.2 per cent and special gifts, with subscriptions amounting to $18,321 has completed 57 per cent of its total.

The women's section has collected $2024.80 or 36.8 per cent, and the classified section has collected $6,142.30 or 36.3 per cent. The campaign as a whole is listed at 49.2 per cent.

Chest officials said that after the relatively poor showing made at the two report meetings last week they were elated over progress revealed by yesterday's figures. Reports will be made today, tomorrow and Thursday at noon in Central Y. M. C. A.

Forty-five additional establishments were awarded gold stars yesterday for having reached or passed their goal in the campaign.

Paige C. Toomey Is Fined $20 By Magistrate

Found Guilty of Reckless Driving; Albert Turner Is Acquitted

Reckless driving and operating an automobile on an instruction permit when not accompanied by a licensed driver cost Paige C. Toomey, Finlstone, $20 and costs when he was given a hearing in trial magistrate's court yesterday morning.

Toomey was charged by State Trooper Charles D. McLane after an automobile collision Saturday afternoon on Williams road, Albert Turner, Cumberland, Route 2, driver of the other car in the accident, was acquitted of a reckless driving charge. Toomey was fined $10 and costs for each of the two offenses.

Injured slightly in the accident, Toomey was treated in Memorial hospital for chest injuries. His wife suffered cuts about the knees.

Failure to stop after an accident last Friday night resulted in a fine of $25 and costs being imposed upon Kenneth Lee Griffey, Ellerslie. The fine, however, was suspended. He was found not guilty of a reckless driving charge.

Griffey was arrested by Trooper Harry Harrison after his car struck the automobile of Harry Glenn Twigg, Allegheny grove, Cumberland, at the intersection of U. S. Route 40 and the Mt. Savage road.

Pleading guilty to failing to stop at a boulevard stop sign, Frank Bennett, 720 Brockfield avenue, was fined $5 and costs but the fine was suspended. Trooper Joseph White entered the charge.

Neff C. Herring, 128 Oak street, arrested by Trooper George M. Browning, was fined $1 and costs for exceeding thirty miles an hour on McMullen highway.

He picked up a man in a soldier's uniform.

Robbed Near Boonsboro
Near Boonsboro on Route No. 40, Shapiro says the "soldier pointed a gun at me, made me get out of the car, marched me into a field and made me give up my money, rationing card, registration and operators' cards and besides threatened me with my life. Then he drove off in my car. I reported the matter to the Frederick sub-station of the state police."

Shapiro said that the car was in the name of his son, Adolph Shapiro, and added he will be compelled to hire a car until the insurance company makes settlement with him.

State police at Frederick confirmed that Shapiro reported the case last Thursday to Sergeant Walter K. May, but that they had been unable to locate the stolen car or the driver (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

The army's newest poster, shown above, is a reproduction of a composite painting by Sgt. Dan V. Smith and Pvt. First Class Albro F. Downe, of the United States Army Recruiting Publicity Bureau, Governors Island, N. Y.

The new six-color poster is one of the most popular of recent times, judging from the number of comments received from civilian and military sources by the recruiting and induction service. Portraying symbolically the ascendancy of the United States Army, and carrying the slogan, "Keep 'Em Flying Is Our Battle Cry," its message, "Do Your Part for Duty-Honor-Country," cannot fail to appeal to every American.

State and County Tax Bills Make Appearance Here

21,000 Will Be in Mails by Saturday, Alban C. Thompson Says

State and county tax bills for 1942 made their appearance yesterday and by Saturday 21,000 will be mailed out to property owners, it was announced yesterday by Alban C. Thompson, collector.

Owners of real or personal property who do not receive tax bills within the next ten days are advised to call at the court house for their bills, Thompson said.

Out of 21,000 bills to be mailed, Thompson estimated that 9,200 are for automobiles.

All checks for taxes should be made payable to Alban C. Thompson, collector, Cumberland, Md.

Pay Interest After Oct. 1
Positively no discount can be allowed on state taxes, which are due on July 1. Interest must be charged at the rate of one half per cent a month, or fractional part thereof, from October 1, 1942. Chapter 261, Acts of 1918, provides that if this bill is not paid on or before January 1, 1943, the property upon which such taxes may be owing shall be levied upon and sold to enforce payment, thereof.

Thompson pointed out that Chapter 59, of the Acts of Assembly, 1931, provide allowance of a discount of five per cent on county taxes if paid on or before June 30; four per cent, July 31, and three per cent, August 31. No discount will be allowed on county taxes after August 31. Interest will be charged from September 1, 1942, at the rate of one half per cent a month or fraction thereof.

The county tax this year is $1.38 on each $100 worth of assessable property, of which $689 goes for schools and $711 for general purposes. The state tax is $1.4 on each $100.

Thompson stressed the fact that failure to receive a bill is no excuse for not paying taxes, interest and penalty.

Office Hours Given
Office hours of the tax office are 9 a. m. to 3 p. m., daily, except from 12 noon to 1 p. m., and from 9 a. m. to noon on Saturdays.

Women Can Now Join U. S. Army Auxiliary Corps

Those Who Volunteer Will Be Trained for Non-combatant Services

The new Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, which will be composed entirely of women, affords women their first opportunity to serve with the armed forces of the nation in capacities other than nurses, Staff Sgt. Clarence Biehn, local army recruiting officer here announced yesterday.

Members of the corps will be in military uniform and under military discipline, organized for non-combatant service with the army. For every woman actively engaged in work to promote the war effort, a man can be added to the nation's combatant forces, Sergeant Biehn says.

Among some of the many positions with the armed forces, women can fill as well as men are the following:

Clerks, machine operators, cooks, bakers, stewardesses, dietitians, hygienists, pharmacists, telephone operators, telegraph operators, hostesses, librarians, post exchange assistants, laundry workers, accountants, stenographers, bookkeepers and many others.

Organization of the corps will proceed slowly and carefully, according to Sergeant Biehn. The corps will have officers and auxiliaries, the latter equivalent to "enlisted men" in the corps, who will be organized into company units.

Particularized information concerning the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps may be obtained from the local recruiting office.

Frostburg State Student Leaders Praised by U. of Md. Dean of Men

Prof. James Reid Says They Will Be Civic Leaders of Tomorrow

FROSTBURG, May 25 — Prof. James H. Reid, acting dean of men at the University of Maryland, was the speaker at the second annual leadership dinner held this evening at Frostburg State Teachers' college.

The affair was attended by twenty-nine seniors, fifteen juniors, twenty-nine sophomores and nine freshmen, many by reason of their participation in extra-curricular activities, qualified as student leaders.

Declaring that there was never a time in the history of the nation when clear, cold, logical thinking and capable leadership was so badly needed to teach men how to live in a democracy and how to make a democracy worth living for, Professor Reid said, in effect, that the student leaders of today would most certainly be the civic, educational and industrial leaders of tomorrow.

U. S. Will Be World Center
Expressing the opinion that after the war was won, the United States would be the world's most important political, financial, cultural and educational center, Prof. Reid said that on this account, a new system of values would take the place of outworn policies of the past.

To provide new leaders to face the future's problems is part of the work, he said, of American colleges and universities. He disclosed that representatives of large industrial organizations are constantly visiting the University of Maryland and other schools seeking young men and women for positions of responsibility.

Prof. Reid said they would invariably check the list of extra-curricular activities in which the

David O. Miller Is Held for Action Of Grand Jury

Moscow Man Committed to Jail following Preliminary Hearing

Accused of assault with intent to kill following an argument over change in a gasoline sale Saturday night, David O. Miller, 29, Moscow, was held for action of the October grand jury when he was given a preliminary hearing in trial magistrate's court yesterday morning.

He was committed to jail when he was unable to post bond of $1,000.

Bullet Strikes Bystander
Miller, according to the charge, fired a .22 calibre pistol at Christopher Miller, operator of a service station near Lonaconing, but shot missed him and struck Patrick McPartland, a bystander.

The bullet penetrated McPartland's arm, dented a metal school security card in his pocket and came to rest in the lining of his coat pocket. He was treated by a physician.

State Trooper A. M. Spiroch said Miller purchased six gallons of gasoline, handed a companion in the car a $10 bill. The companion gave the money to the service station proprietor who returned the change to him.

Returning to the service station later, Miller declared the money had not been given to him. The argument and shot followed. The Millers are not related.

Other Cases
Sixty-day jail terms imposed on two Cumberland men for theft of a tire and tube from a truck owned by Anthony Anthony local lunch room owner, were suspended.

The men, William Lowe, 148 North Mechanic street, and Robert B. Woodard, 23 North Mechanic street, were paroled for one year and ordered to repay money they received for the stolen property. Its value was placed at $15.

Bond of $50 was forfeited yesterday by Robert Shout, Jr., operator of the "Boys club" on Baltimore street, when he failed to appear in police court to answer charges of maintaining a gaming device. Shout was arrested May 21 by city police who said slot machines, "craps" table and other devices were seized in the club.

Conlon Announces Membership Figures For Minute Men

Membership figures of seven military men companies in Allegheny county were announced last night by Capt. Thomas F. Conlon, commanding officer of Company C, Maryland State Guard, and organizer of the reserve militia in this county.

Eight companies have been assigned to this county but the seventh has not been organized, Conlon said. Four of the companies are in Cumberland and the others will be in different sections of the county.

The company representing LaVale and Ellerslie has just been organized and will report at the LaVale fire hall next Monday night to either J. K. Snyder or William Nace. Forty-nine men have volunteered there, Conlon said.

Figures announced last night show the following membership:

Company No. 1, sixty-one; company No. 2, forty-seven; company No. 3, forty-four; company No. 4, thirty-five; company No. 5, LaVale and Ellerslie, forty-nine; company No. 6, Cresaptown, ten; company No. 8, Frostburg, fifty-five.

The City Police department is determined to break up rowdiness and destruction of property in the city, Assistant Chief of Police John J. Treiber, announced last night.

Treiber made the announcement after questioning more than twenty boys, accused by residents of North Cumberland of running through gardens, destroying lawns and hedges.

Treiber said the roundup of juveniles was the first step of the department to cure the ruthless destruction of property and warned the boys and their parents that if the practice is continued the boys will be taken to juvenile court.

At least three and four calls an evening are being received at headquarters complaining of gangs of boys running through the yards of North Cumberland residents, Treiber stated, and if the parents of these boys cannot control them we will have to take more drastic steps.

The assistant chief also stated that action will be taken to break up gathering of juveniles on the street corners during the night. This is the way a great many boys get off to a bad start, Treiber stated, and is the basis of many of the petty robbery cases that are brought into juvenile court.

Announce Birth
Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Nixon, Spring Gap, announce the birth of a daughter in Memorial hospital yesterday morning.
